RAS SEYOUM PREPARING COUNTER-ATTACK TO RETAKE AKSUM

EMBARGO ON WAR MATERIALS

PREPARATIONS BEING MADE AT GENEVA

BOYCOTT OF ITALIAN EXPORTS TO BE DISCUSSED TO-DAY

Geneva, To-day. Link by link the sanctions chain is being inexorably woven at Geneva. The economic sub-committee yesterday gave the first reading of the list of materials necessary for conducting war, on the basis of which, after further consideration, an embargo will be recommended.

The list has not yet been published, but it is believed to include rubber, glycerine, iron ore, pig-iron, lead, copper, zinc, tin, manganese, tungsten and nitric acid.

The aim of the committee is first to attack products supplied to Italy entirely or mainly by States participating in the sanctions. The question of ships and vehicles of certain manufactured and semi-manufactured goods is being referred to the military experts.

It is understood that the military experts committee agreed to augment President Roosevelt's list of arms on which an embargo is recommended so as to include all apparatus used for chemical and incendiary warfare and it has been decided that all gases used for war purposes shall be included in the prohibited list.

Geneva. Earlier: A list of the commodities necessary to enable Italy to continue hostilities has been compiled by the economic sub-committee which is considering restrictive action.

These articles are divided into two groups, namely those like petrol, coal and cotton, largely drawn from non-member States and those like iron, manganese and some minerals and rarer metals like tungsten and wolfram, the source of which is practically entirely in the hands of members of the League.

Nothing is likely to be done with the first category until non-members can be consulted, but recommendations for immediate action are likely as regards the second group.

PENANG TO H.K. FLIGHT

Second Test Proves Successful

The Imperial Airways survey passenger aeroplane, piloted by Captain W. Armstrong, arrived in the Colony this afternoon shortly before 1 p.m. to complete a second experimental flight, which was reported to be quite satisfactory.

Captain Armstrong said they missed Fort Bayard and flew on a direct course from Tourane to Hong Kong, their average speed being between 130 to 140 miles an hour, which was the machine's cruising speed.

The last flight made by them showed that their present route was quite practicable, and on their present journey they had had no incident or accident to report.

The machine, which is of the Diana type, is now being refuelled by the Asiatic Petroleum Company, although the return flight will not be made until Saturday, when the machine will leave Kai Tak at 7 a.m.

Alameda, California, To-day. A new record is claimed for a naval seaplane, which alighted here from Colon with a crew of six, having covered 2,300 miles in 34 hours 51 minutes.—Reuter.

AMERICAN WOMAN MURDERED

ROBBERY MOTIVE IN NANKING

Nanking, To-day. The body of Doctor Susan Waddell, aged 30, the American wife of a Chinese resident was found yesterday morning near Peichikoh, a lonely spot on the northern side of the city railway. It is generally believed that she was robbed and murdered during the night, her neck bearing what seemed to be marks of strangulation. A gold watch and over $100 in banknotes which she was known to have been carrying overnight were missing from the body.

Her husband, Dr. Hsu Shih-chih is an expert attached to the National Health Administration. Miss Waddell was formerly a teacher at the Shantung University, Tsinan.—Reuter.

ITALIAN ADVANCE HELD UP

BRUNO MUSSOLINI HAS NARROW ESCAPE IN SCOUTING PLANE

Rome, To-day. The Italians entered the sacred city of Aksum at 7.15 a.m. yesterday.

News has been received at Aksum that Ras Seyoum is preparing to counter-attack the Italian right flank with several thousand men, with the object of retaking the city, according to an Italian newspaper report.

Attempts by the Ethiopians to cross the Setit River are said to have been repulsed with heavy loss. It is learned that Bruno Mussolini had a narrow escape while flying over the Makale region. Four bullets hit the plane, but Bruno was not injured and returned to the aerodrome safely.

It is officially stated that no proposals were made by either side in the conversation between M. Laval and Baron Cerruti, the Italian Ambassador at Paris, on Monday. An official spokesman told Reuter: "We do not consider this a time to discuss a settlement while sanctions are being considered at Geneva and the atmosphere is one of intimidation towards Italy. We consider the friendly attitude of the people in the occupied part of Abyssinia a complete justification of our policy. We are just going to go ahead."

CHAMBERLAIN'S SPEECH

FORCIBLE REACTION IN SECTIONS OF ITALIAN PRESS

Rome, To-day. Mr. Neville Chamberlain's Glasgow speech has produced a forcible reaction in all sections of the Italian Press.

Mr. Chamberlain hinted that one should not nurse any illusions about the duration of the crisis because the world stands at the beginning and not at the end of the conflict, and that the subsequent development of the crisis might assume a somewhat grave character, as interpreted by the Lavoro Fascista, and that one must be prepared for

GENERAL ELECTION IN BRITAIN

NO DEFINITE DATE YET FIXED

EARLIEST POSSIBLE APPEAL TO COUNTRY

London, To-day. It is understood that no definite date was fixed for the general election at yesterday's Cabinet meeting, but it is learned that the discussion revealed a strong body of feeling in the Cabinet in favour of the earliest possible appeal to the country and the view was expressed that when Parliament re-assembles on Tuesday next the only business to be taken should be a three-day debate on foreign affairs followed by the prorogation of Parliament on the following Friday.

In this case the dissolution will probably take place on October 26, with the nomination day on November 4 and polling day on November 14.

Domestic affairs were considered yesterday and it is understood that the Cabinet will review the international situation to-day.—Reuter.

PERRY NOT TO BE TEMPTED

Hollywood, To-day. Fred Perry, the famous lawn tennis player, before leaving for Australia to take up his new post, declared that he no longer entertained the idea of turning professional. His back injury will prevent him from playing for at least two months.—Reuter.

THROUGH ROAD COMMUNICATION WITH SHANGHAI

Expected To Be Open Next Month

120 HOURS FROM CANTON BY MOTOR VEHICLE

[From Our Own Correspondent] Canton, To-day.

Communication by highway between Canton and Shanghai will be possible some time next month, when a motor car or bus will be able to leave for the "Paris of the Orient," via Northern Kwangtung.

The route will go from Canton to Nanchang in Northern Kwangtung and thence to Tayu. From Tayu the traveller will go to Hengchow in Hunan, which is connected with Changsha, the provincial capital. The next stop will be Nanchang, the provincial capital of Kiangsi. Farther is Hangchow, provincial capital of Chekiang, which is connected by a good highway with Shanghai. The entire trip will take about 120 hours by motor vehicle. Some of the roads have been constructed under the auspices of the National Economic Council.

When this trunk line is open, it will also be possible for passengers and goods to go from Canton to Hankow partly by highway, and partly by railway. The highway from Canton will lead to Hengchow or Changsha. From either point passengers or freight can be carried by railway direct to Hankow.

At present, passengers and cargo from Canton to Hankow are obliged to go in a semi-circle, calling first at Shanghai.

BRITAIN'S LATEST LIGHT CRUISER LAUNCHED

NORTH-WEST FRONTIER INCIDENT

SEQUEL TO ATTACK LAST MONTH

SUBMISSION OF UPPER MOHMAND HEADMAN

Peshawar, To-day. The Upper Mohmand headman has submitted to the Governor of the north-west frontier at a jirga held at Wuchajawar.

Replying to his request for peace the Governor explained the Government policy and demands in a speech in Pushtu illustrated by local proverbs.

The road to Nahaiki on the frontier is nearing completion. All troops are expected to return to barracks early in November.—Reuter.

A message of September 30 stated that a sudden attack had been made upon a small British column by a lashkar of Upper Mohmands, in which two British officers and some Indian soldiers were killed.

SHANGHAI SUPREME AT GAMES

FIELD AND TRACK SUCCESSES

Shanghai, To-day. At the completion of the men's track and field events at the National Games Shanghai headed the lists in the track events with 77 points, followed by Malaya (23), Shansi (17), Liaoning (15) and Kwangtung (13).

In the field events Shanghai also secured pride of place with 51 points, followed by Liaoning (24), Peiping (19), Nanking (14), Kwangtung (12), Hopei (10) and Malaya (7).

In the women's track and field events Shanghai secured an overwhelming triumph, scoring 130 points against Malaya (45), Kwangtung (26), Fukien (22) and Honan (10).—Reuter.

Hong Kong In Soccer Final

Shanghai, later: In a hard-fought basketball game this morning Nanking beat the Philippines by 49 to 39.

In the soccer semi-finals Hong Kong beat Peiping by 8 goals to 1.—Reuter.

WOMEN'S PAGE

END OF SUMMER FEELING

ITALIAN EFFECT ON FASHION

Picturesque Winter Season

It already is evident that coming fashions will be inspired by the Italian Exhibition in Paris, which still draws thousands of people every day, and Renaissance art in general. And besides the Italian will be the Oriental influence, a combination that forecasts one of the most picturesque winter seasons in a generation.

While women love to alter their appearance for hours of relaxation, they will not completely relinquish the supple, lithe and muscular figures acquired by so much effort and perseverance, so it is in the laps of the gods whether the sinuous, romantic women of Botticelli will be adopted as models of fashion in preference to the more voluptuous charms of the old Venetian school. It is certain, however, sumptuous velvets and brocades will be used in a profusion not seen in many years, with draped skirts, billowing sleeves and a wealth of rich embroideries very much to the force.

BURNT MARKS

Burnt marks on a marble hearth, caused through hot coals falling on it, can be entirely removed by an application of chloride of lime. Mix to a paste with water and use with a soft rag. Even marks of long standing can be removed in this way.

Things You Must Attend To

The end of the summer arrives! Disconsolately we gaze on our heads in the mirror and discover hair as dry as a haystack from exposure to heat and sun without a hat: hair too greasy from faulty bathing-caps; hair breaking off at the ends from windy days on golf links, tennis courts, open cars, and beaches; a much-worn permanent wave; and, above all things, a hair-dress we are sick and tired of, and so unfitting for the new frocks we contemplate, and the new hats we envy for the days to come.

Things To Consider

So we have several tasks before us. The first is to get our scalps in good condition. The second is to decide on a brand-new hair cut and wave. The third is to choose the best possible man to administer that winter "permanent."

HAIR-DRESS TO SUIT TYPE

Two Suggestions Given

Your new cut and hair-dress must be reckoned in terms of facial contours, taking your best hairdresser's advice as to what is good for your special type.

You can effect a pompadour effect with the hair combed and rolled upwards and outwards towards the top of your crown, with sleek pieces over each ear. Very good if you contemplate one of the new floppy velvet berets, or regal evening gowns with long ear-rings. Excellent for coarse, rather heavy locks.

A semi-Grecian effect is excellent, with a cluster of tiny curls above one ear from a side parting, and a short, slightly curled fringe across the forehead. Here is a style lending itself to all ages, and adaptable for all types with clean-cut features.

FEATHERS ADORN FALL HATS

Feathers of all types and sizes adorn new fall hats. Some swirl upward in Robin Hood manner from the centre of the crown. Others sweep downward to cover an ear or the side of the neck. Then, too, you probably will see hats that are made entirely of feathers. These will be worn on the street as well as to cocktail parties and dinners.

Pink Is Favourite Colour

Pink, fashion's favourite colour this summer, is the coolest-looking and, incidentally, the most expensive appearing shade you possibly can wear. There are pink linen and shantung suits for town and country, handsome pink sweaters to wear with white skirts when you

POWDER SHOULD FLATTER

The Texture Is Very Important

CLINGING POWDER FOR OILY SKINS

You should always look closely to see whether your powder flatters your skin. This depends partly on your judgment in choosing one of the right texture. Most powders to-day are fine and delicate and smooth. Still, you may find that this one is nicer on your skin than that one. The reason often lies in the texture of the powder itself. "Women refer to light, heavy and medium powders, but scientists say that what they mean is that the "heavy" powders have greater covering power and adhesiveness.

Covering Blemishes

Naturally, if you have an oily skin or one with many little blemishes and coarse pores, you will prefer a powder that clings well and covers your skin efficiently. One that makes a smooth and quite lasting mask is what you need.

But if you have a fine skin, you probably like to look natural, not too obviously powdered. If your skin is rather dry and rough, or if your face is lined, a light powder will be more flattering. The heavier variety shows up wrinkles badly.

Between the two extremes there are many powders that stay on well for two or three hours and that give an illusion of delicacy without actually covering up the skin texture. These give just the misty flattery most faces require.

POPULARITY OF BEADS

But Make Sure They Will Not Break

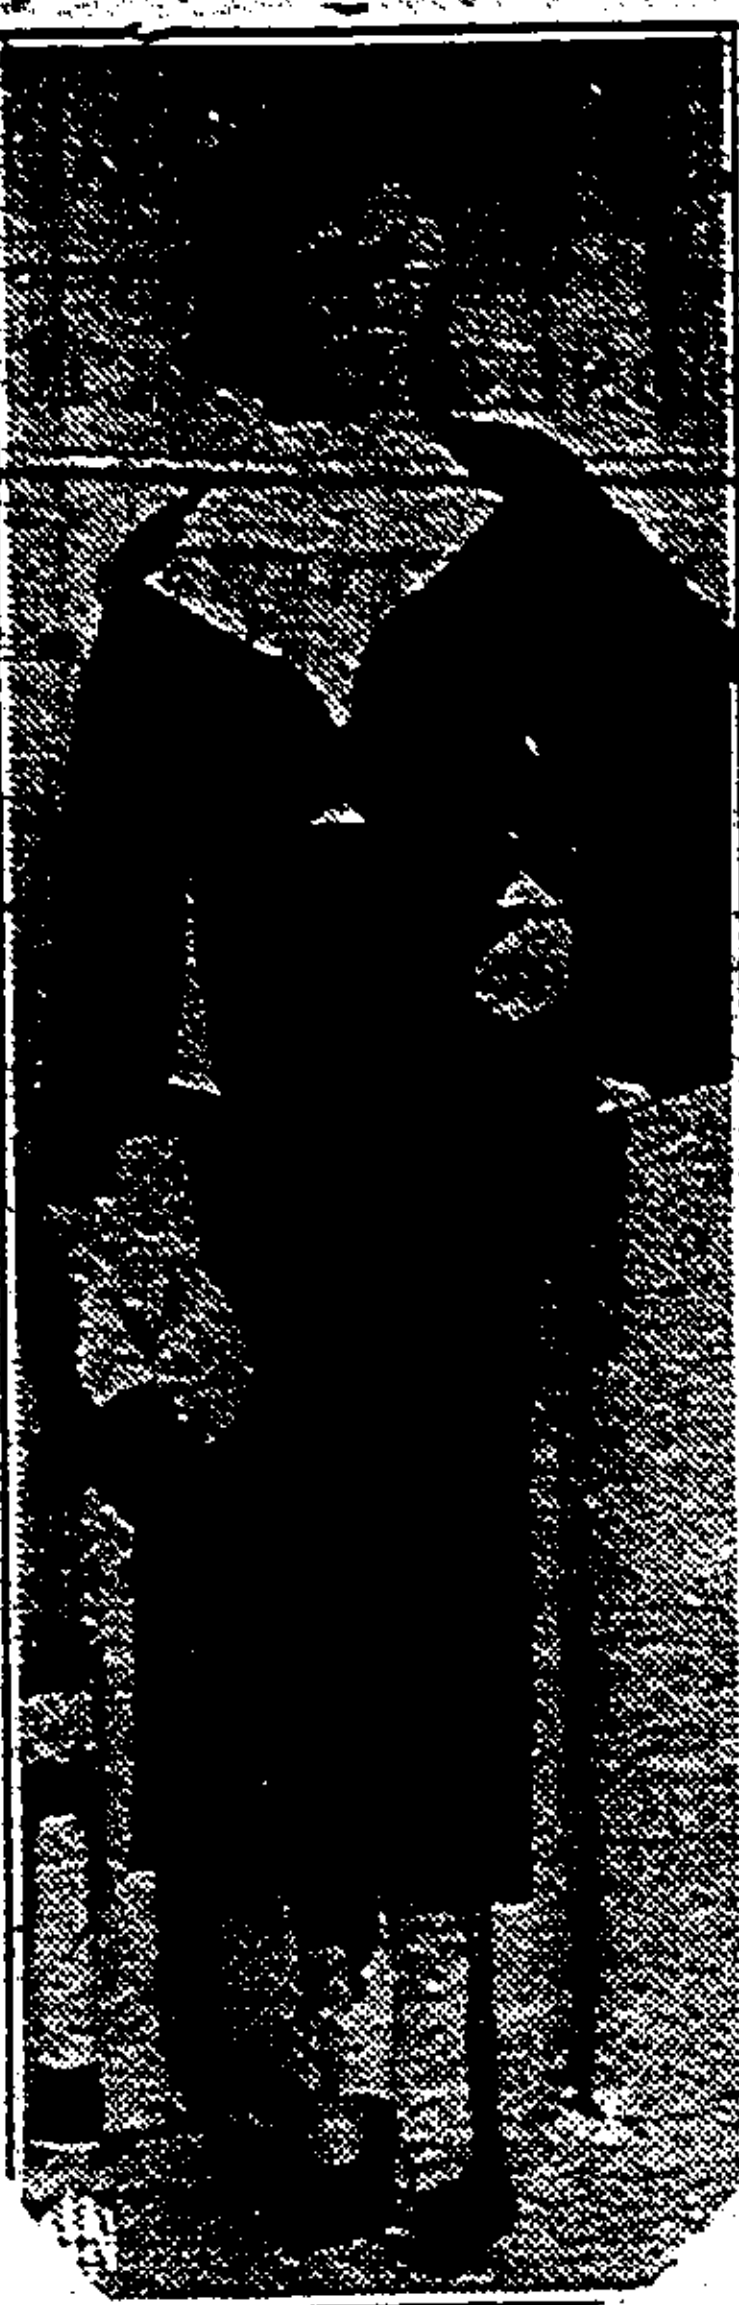

Beads have never been more fashionable now that we wear a different necklace with each frock.

If you have some of the large, heavy beads it is as well to thread them on fine cord or thick silk. It is so embarrassing if they break just as one is running for a bus, scattering themselves in all directions.

If the cord too thick to thread in a needle, unravel an inch at one end and soap it well. Then roll it between the fingers to a fine point, and the beads can be threaded like lightning!

MARBLE

A cut lemon rubbed on stains on a marble mantelpiece will remove them quicker than anything. It will also leave the marble nice and white.

Black gabardine is used for this youthfully-styled black-and-white ensemble, modelled by Patricia Ellis, the Warner Bros. screen actress. The straight-line skirt has shallow slashes at each side and the upper part of the dress has a high-necked bit front of white crepe.

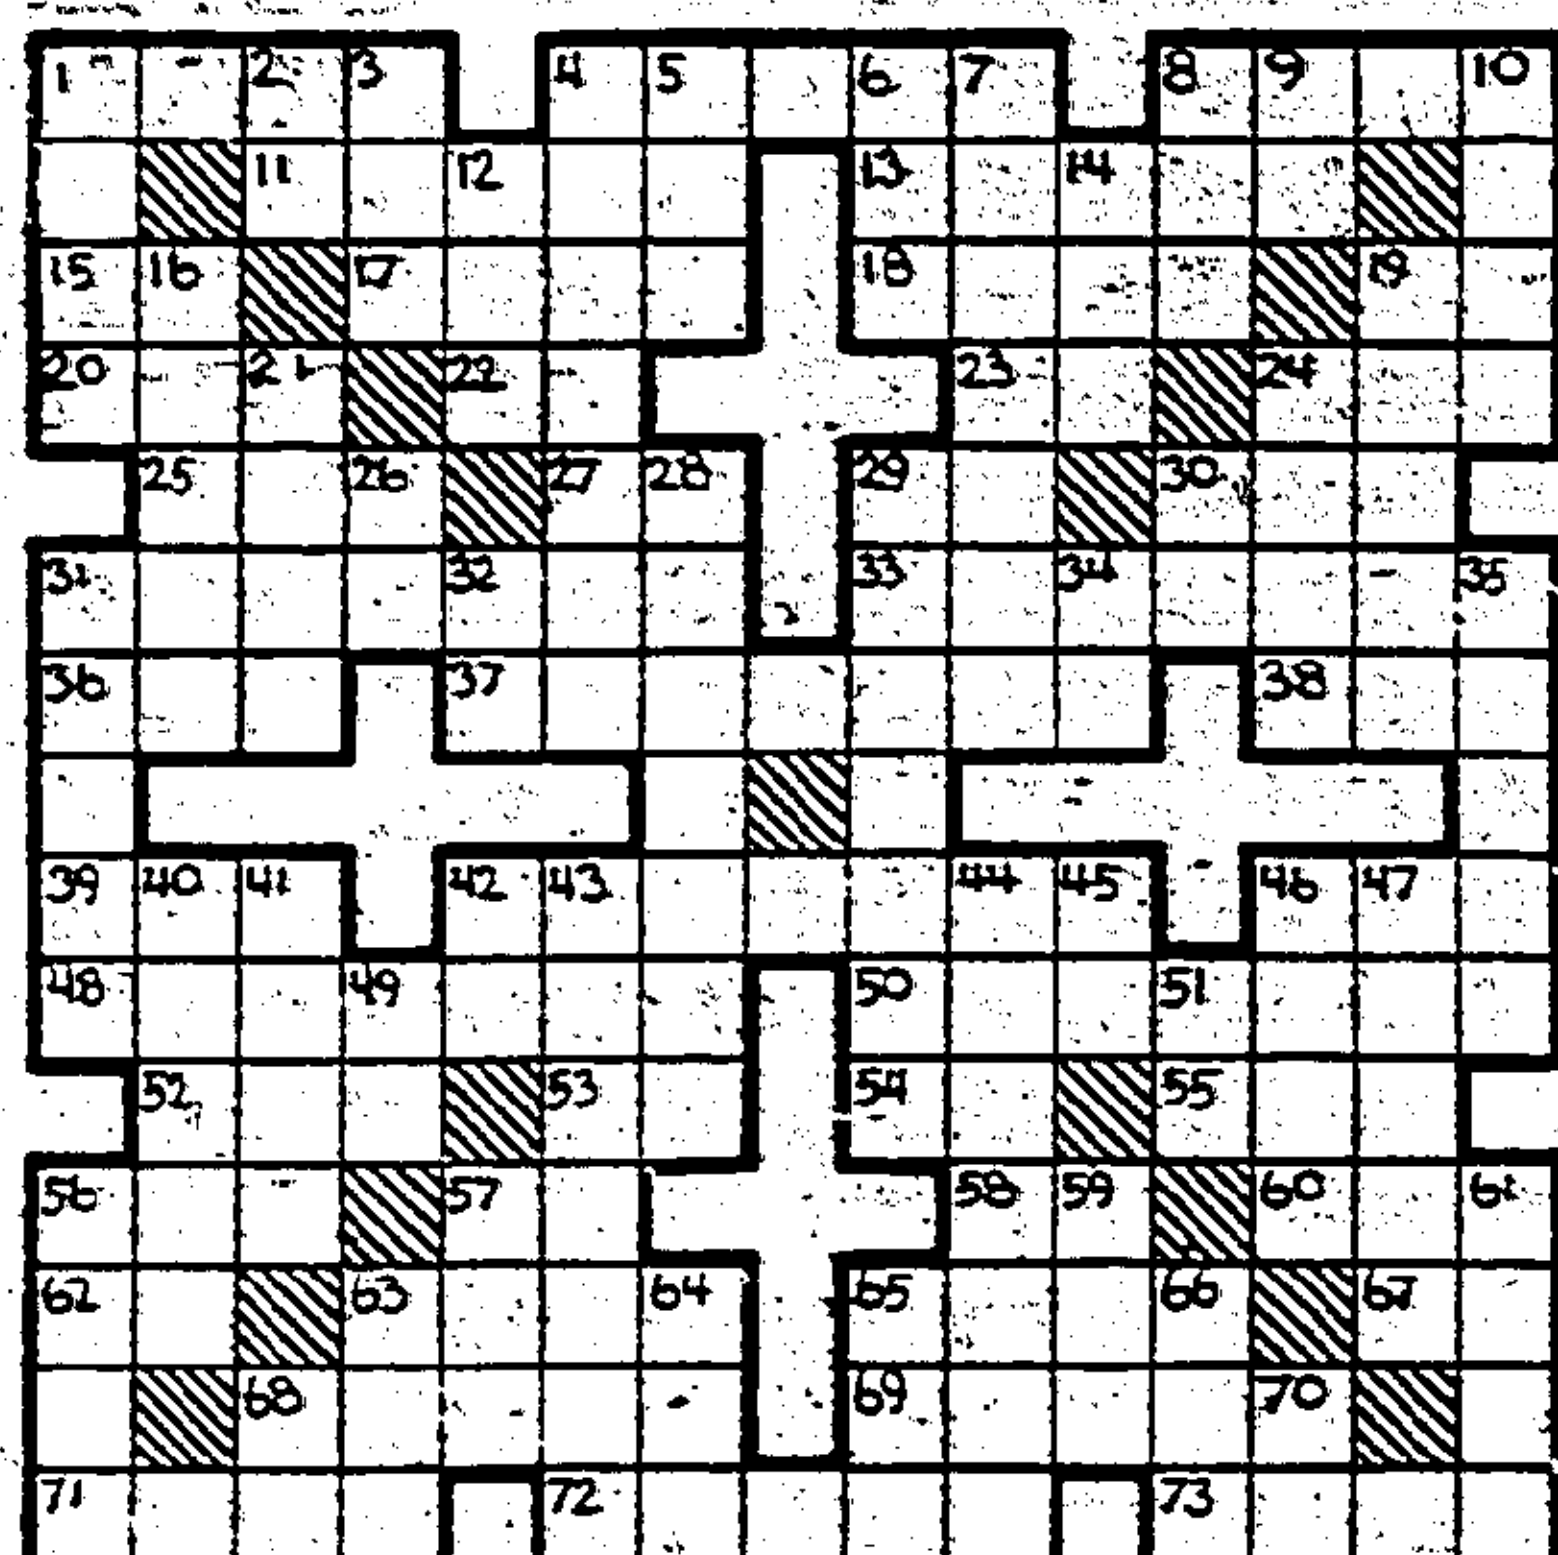

Sound Refreshing Sleep At Teething Time

Often the cutting of the first teeth are the cause of much suffering, and entail many sleepless nights for both the little one and his parents. But now easily this trying period may be overcome with the minimum of pain and discomfort if parents know the value of Baby's Own Tablets. These pleasant-tasting little tablets are the prescription of a medical child-specialist. Their mild laxative action cleanses the stomach and bowels, with the result that nerves are soothed, sound restful sleep follows, and teething becomes easy. Non-gripping and non-purging, Baby's Own Tablets are equally good for the correction of all minor health troubles such as constipation, indigestion, upset stomach, diarrhoea, colds and croup, simple fever, and are of assistance in expelling worms. For children of all ages from the cradle up to twelve there is no better health safeguard than Baby's Own Tablets. From chemists everywhere.

When a vulnerable opponent has made an obviously bad bid, there is no compulsion upon his opponents to assist him out of his difficulty. Often the best procedure is to pass and let him suffer the consequences.

The bidding: (Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)
South West North East
1NT (1) Pass (2) Pass (3) Pass

1—With a part-score of 90, South wanted to make it as difficult as possible for the opponents to overcall. If his partner held the King of clubs and a Queen or two, one notrump would be laid down, whereas the club opening would invite bidding by the opponents.

2—West of course had ample strength for a takeout double, but did not want to be taken out. It was almost inconceivable that South could make one notrump, but West knew his partner could not possibly have enough strength to make a penalty pass of a takeout double.

3—North was not convinced South could make one notrump but was even less certain of being able to make two hearts. He hoped East would overcall to take him out of a very dangerous spot.

West opened the King of diamonds and continued with the Queen. East playing the seven and six that order. A low diamond was next led to the nine, and a spade was returned. West's Jack winning. Another low diamond was led to the five-spot, and on the spade return South put up the King and West cashed the Ace and Queen. The Ace of diamonds was taken. East discarding the deuce of clubs.

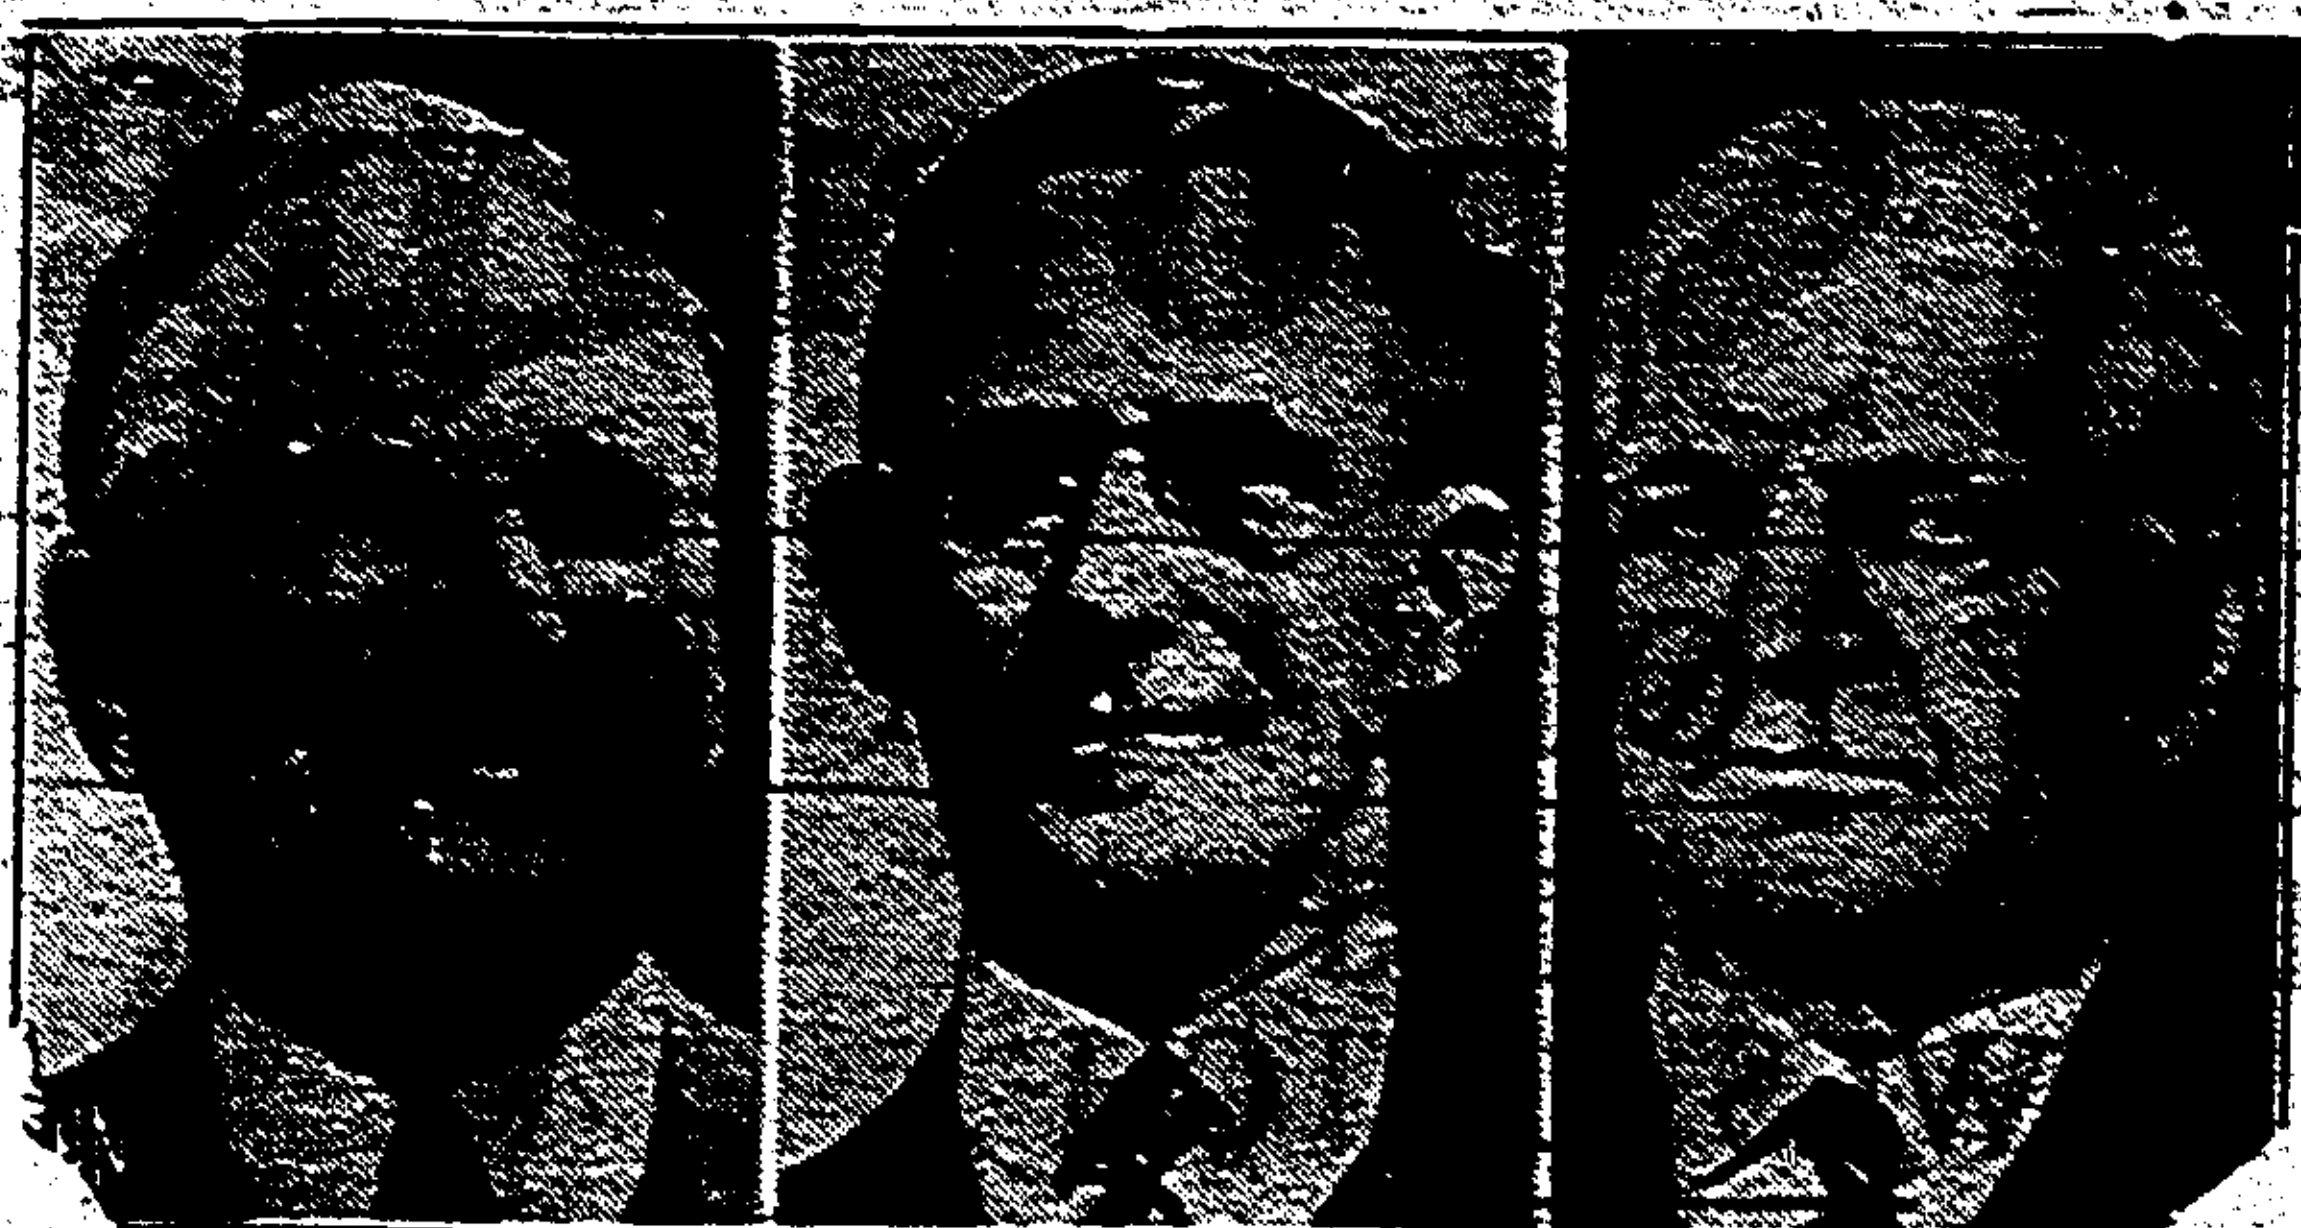

Had East held a fairly high spot-card in the heart suit he could have discarded it to signal for a heart lead; but the deuce of clubs, by discouraging a club lead, served the same purpose.

A heart was led to the Ace, and East cashed the thirteenth spade. A heart return was taken by declarer's King, and since he had saved the Ace and Queen of clubs, West saved his clubs and took the final trick. Declarer was set five tricks for a loss of 1,000 points.

DOGS BARKS CURBED BY

REMOTE CONTROL

London.—In these days of anti-noise leagues it is wise to teach your dog not to bark unnecessarily. At some big greyhound kennels, not far from London, where there is accommodation for 900 dogs, each kennel is fitted with an instrument which acts both as a microphone and as a loudspeaker. If a dog in his excitement, or otherwise barks or howls, he unknowingly starts a relay which lights up a lamp in a control room, and he promptly hears, "Now, then, Hector (or whatever his name is) quiet, my boy, quiet," or words to suit the occasion.

Cinema Notes

"LILIES OF THE FIELD"—KING'S THEATRE

One of the finest pictures to come from a British studio is British & Dominion's "Lilies of the Field," which is now showing at the King's Theatre.

The cast is rather larger than usual for this type of film, but all the parts are handled by capable players who have all had stage experience before entering pictures. Anthony Bushell, who was first seen in films when he had a small part with George Arliss in "Disraeli" has blossomed out to be one of the most accomplished of England's romantic leads, and he is ably supported in the present vehicle by winsome Winifred Shotter.

"CAR 99"—QUEEN'S THEATRE

Following very much on the lines of "G-Men," the current attraction at the Queen's Theatre, "Car 99," has for the foundation of its story the adventures of the famous Michigan Police, who are claimed to be the finest body of police officers in the United States.

Great attention has been paid to detail in this film, one particular scene being held up for a whole day in order that some braid, worn on the uniforms of the Michigan police, should be attached to the uniforms used in the film, as this detail had been inadvertently overlooked.

"FATHER BROWN, DETECTIVE"—ALHAMBRA THEATRE

One of the most lovable detective creations of modern fiction, Father Brown, comes to the screen at the Alhambra Theatre for the first time, in the first series of his adventures in the difficult task of solving crime.

Father Brown, although actually quite unrelated with any other figure, is more easily compared with the "Thin Man" type of detective, in the portrayal of which William Powell excelled, than either Sherlock Holmes or Philo Vance.

Father Brown, as Walter Connolly sees him, will find a place in the hearts of most cinema-goers. His crisp humour and witty remarks, his clergyman appearance, which is an essential part of his make-up, and the face which proves to be only a mask for the keen powers of perception, that lie behind it, all add greatly to the popularity of the film.

"LADIES LOVE DANGER"—STAR THEATRE

The team which scored so heavily in "Mystery Woman"—Gilbert Roland and Mona Barrie—make another hit in "Ladies Love Danger."

Heavy lover roles had burdened Roland for many years, but he has always had a craving for light romantic vehicles. He was given his chance in "Mystery Woman," and this second picture is the outcome of his successful venture. Others in the cast include Adrienne Ames, Donald Cook, Herbert Mundin, Hardie Albright, Nick Ford, Marion Clayton, and Ray Walker.

"TIMES SQUARE LADY"—MAJESTIC THEATRE

"Times Square Lady" tells a poignantly beautiful story of young country girl who goes to New York and is swiftly caught in the vortex of life there. The role of the girl is taken by lovely Virginia Bruce, and the man she falls in love with is Robert Taylor.

"BABOONA"—ORIENTAL THEATRE

Many of the most exciting scenes of "Baboons," Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson's latest adventure film, were obtained quite by accident, when the famous couple learned a great many new and interesting reactions of the wild beasts they flew 60,000 miles to photograph.

The Johnsons had covered Africa by boat, on foot and in motor trucks. This time, in the hope of injecting a new note in the wild animal film, they set out to fly the length and breadth of the vast continent by plane.

RHEUMATISM IN THE STONE AGE

Skeleton Of Old Man Who Had Arthritis

COTSWOLD DISCOVERY

Discoveries of ancient remains were reported from two quarters recently.

In the Cotswolds Mrs. E. M. Clifford has excavated the Notgrove long barrow, containing five chambers. Bones of several persons were found in it with arrow heads, beads and pottery of the early Neolithic period, i.e. at least 4,000 years old.

A particularly interesting discovery was that one of the skeletons, that of an old man, showed extensive signs of osteoarthritis, indicating that when alive this stone-age veteran had been crippled with rheumatism. Beside the skeleton of a girl in her teens was a small image in local stone, believed to represent the Fertility Goddess.

On a hill near Stockbridge, Hants, Dr. Norman Gray Hill has unearthed 30 human skeletons, presumed to be those of Jutes, buried between 400 and 500 A.D., the period of their invasion of Britain. The excavations were begun following the finding of two skulls by Boy Scouts when placing a Silver Jubilee beacon on the hill.

Most of the skeletons are of young men, and five are complete and well preserved. Some were lying face downwards, others were crouched, and in several instances the remains were lying side by side or on top of one another. The bones showed no marks of wounds or other injuries.

TO-NIGHT'S SCOUT CONCERT

Splendid Programme Arranged

GOOD ENTERTAINMENT AT CHINA FLEET CLUB

An enjoyable entertainment is promised this evening when the Scouts of the 4th Hong Kong (Murray) and 4th Kowloon (Garrison) Troops present their Second Annual Concert at the China Fleet Club Theatre, commencing at 8.45 p.m. sharp.

As a specimen of variety the programme leaves little to be desired. Many popular local artists will figure on the programme while the Scouts themselves will be responsible for intermediate items. Long experience has taught the organisers of concerts that those run entirely by the Scouts are apt to become rather monotonous, but there is no doubt that the type of entertainment promised this evening is very near the ideal.

By kind permission of the Colonel and officers of the regiment the Band of the 2nd Battalion the East Lancashire Regiment, under Bandmaster A. B. Yule, will be in attendance.

The following local artists have promised their support:—Mrs. Anderson-Miller, Mr. Li Chor-chi, Mr. P. H. Segon, the Quartette of the East Lancashire Regiment, and the pupils of the O'Keefe-Montgomery School of Dancing. An added attraction will be Miss Stella Best, a pupil of the Volkova School of Dancing, in one of Mr. G. Goncharoff's pretty dances.

Mrs. W. Sinclair will accompany. Other artists are Mr. Harvey Ashe, Mr. B. O. Kime, Mr. S. McNeill, Mr. W. Robertson and the Hawaiian Guitar Trio.

The proceeds of the concert are to be devoted to the funds of the 4th Hong Kong and 4th Kowloon Troops. Tickets at $2 (reserved) and $1 (unreserved) are obtainable from The Anderson Music Co. or at the door. Doors will be open at eight o'clock.

DR. CAPEK AND WIFE TO LIVE APART

Separate Villas For Sake Of Work

Prague.
Dr. Karel Capek, the Czechoslovak playwright and novelist, and Miss Olga Scheinpflugova, the actress, whom he married at the end of August, have decided to live separately in their own villas in Prague.

The reason for this decision to maintain a double establishment is that Miss Scheinpflugova is also a playwright and novelist. "How," they ask, "except in a building the size of the League of Nations palace at Geneva could two novels be written at the same time under the same roof?"

Dr. Capek's method of work is to shut himself up like a hermit and work steadily for hours on end.

B. W. BRADBURY

BEST KNOWN INTERPORT LAWN BOWLER

B. W. BRADBURY'S DISTINCTION

HOPES TO REPEAT SUCCESS OF 1932 INTERPORT

(By "SKIP")

B. W. Bradbury (Craigengower) is probably the best known of all the Interport team, and his name has been associated with bowls for nearly two decades.

Bradbury has never had a better year than the one that he has just concluded. This year, for the first time in his long career, he reached the final of the Open Singles, and was only eliminated after a very fine struggle by R. Duncan.

He has skipped the Craigengower team for many years now, and has headed the skips' table on more than one occasion, and on the other times he was seldom very far from the top.

First Interport

He was accorded Interport recognition for the first time in 1932, when he travelled north with U. M. Omar's rink. It proved to be a glorious victory for Hong Kong, for the team returned without losing a single match.

Bradbury played No. 2, the position he occupies again this year, in all three games.

CASTILLO DEFEATS YOUNG TOMMY

Filipino Bantam Beaten At Los Angeles

GOES DOWN FOR LONG COUNT

Los Angeles, October 2. Frankie Castillo, Los Angeles Mexican, decisively defeated Young Tommy, Filipino-born bantamweight, in a ten round bout here to-night.

Both men elected to slug, but Castillo landed the most telling blows, forcing the Filipino to retreat frequently.

Count Of Nine

Castillo floored Young Tommy for a count of nine in the second round, but the latter came back and managed to stay on his feet for the remainder of the fight.

The judges awarded the decision to Castillo unanimously, scoring seven rounds in his favour. Two were awarded to the Filipino and one was called even. Both fighters weighed in at 120 pounds.—United Press.

FINAL INTERPORT BOWLS MATCH

SHANGHAI LIKELY TO SECURE "HAT-TRICK"

BUT OMAR'S RINK CAPABLE OF TURNING TABLES ON NORTHERNERS

(By "Skip")

THE third and final Lawn Bowls Interport match between Hong Kong and Shanghai will be played off this afternoon on the Kowloon B.G.C. green. As Shanghai, by virtue of their two previous wins, are already possessors of the Prentice Cup, it does not hold the same interest it would had the two ports been on level terms, but, nevertheless, as it is a game between two of the finest rinks in the Far East, it will attract a considerable amount of attention.

The general feeling prevailing in bowling circles is that Shanghai, having bettered what we considered to be our strongest combinations, are unlikely to falter before Omar's four, but a great deal depends on where the Shanghai skipper decides to play his men.

This is the third time that Shanghai has beaten Hong Kong in Hong Kong, making their tenth victory against the eight wins that we have secured. Hong Kong has won twice in Shanghai—in 1923 and in 1932.

Omar's Rink Triumphs

Since the triple game series was started in 1930, on only two occasions has one port won all three games. Hong Kong, skippered by U. M. Omar, accomplished this feat in Shanghai in 1932, but when Omar revisited the port with a team two years later he suffered the same fate at the hands of the Shanghai skips. Whether the visitors will steal the march on us in this particular connection again rests with Omar.

The following is the complete result of every Interport game since the series was commenced in 1918, giving the home team first:

1918	Shanghai beat Hong Kong by 20 shots to 11.
1919	Hong Kong beat Shanghai by 27 shots to 13.
1920	Shanghai beat Hong Kong by 20 shots to 18.
1921	Hong Kong beat Shanghai by 23 shots to 22.
1922	Shanghai beat Hong Kong by 24 shots to 8.
1923	Hong Kong beat Shanghai by 27 shots to 22.
1924	Shanghai beat Hong Kong by 20 shots to 14.
1925	Hong Kong beat Shanghai by 28 shots to 3.
1926	Shanghai beat Hong Kong by 19 shots to 17.
1927	Hong Kong lost to Shanghai by 13 shots to 17.
1928	Shanghai lost to Hong Kong by 20 shots to 19.
1929	Hong Kong beat Shanghai by 19 shots to 17.
1930	Shanghai beat Hong Kong by 2 games to 1.
1931	Hong Kong lost to Shanghai by 1 game to 2.
1932	Shanghai lost to Hong Kong by 0 games to 3.
1933	Hong Kong beat Shanghai by 2 games to 1.
1934	Shanghai beat Hong Kong by 3 games to 0.
1935	Hong Kong lost to Shanghai by 1 game to 2.

NG KIT-MAN WINS QUEEN'S COLLEGE AQUATIC TITLE

Ma Yat Kwong Is Junior Champion

STAR SWIMMERS AT NATIONAL GAMES

Though the standard of swimming was not very high, owing to three of their best swimmers being at present away at the China National Games in Shanghai, some very enjoyable and keen competition was witnessed at the annual aquatic sports of Queen's College in the Y.M.C.A. bath yesterday.

The most interesting event was the Senior Inter-Class relay. This event was won by class 3D, who have to thank Lu Po-kin, for their triumph.

EXHIBITIONS TO BE HELD AT K.C.C.

L.T.A. GRANT VERBAL PERMISSION

(By "Referee")

VERBAL permission having been granted by the Hong Kong Lawn Tennis Association, Hong Kong will be given an opportunity of witnessing Henri Cochet, the French professional lawn tennis player in action here on and from October 26, when Cochet will play against Francisco Arragon, the Philippines' professional champion, Rouel Canavarro, the Shanghai professional, and another Filipino professional.

The K.C.C. have placed their courts at the disposal of this world famous French professional, who will arrive in the Colony on October 23, but who will first play a series of matches in Canton on October 24 and 25, arriving back in the Colony the following day.

On October 26 and 27 Cochet and his colleagues will give private demonstrations, a private lesson costing $20 per hour, while group lessons of about 20 people at a time will be given at $10 a head. These will take place on Saturday afternoon and the whole of Sunday, October 27.

OMAR HAS BEST RECORD OF ANY INTERPORTER

MAKES HIS 7TH APPEARANCE

MANY DISTINCTIONS IN COLONY TITLE SERIES

(By "SKIP")

Among all the players in the Interport teams U. M. Omar is the most distinguished, for, besides having gained Interport recognition six times already, he is the only bowler to have won the Colony singles title twice since the War.

He ended the season in the second position in the Skips' table with the loss of only two matches, and has assisted Craigengower to win the League championship five times during the last six years they have won it.

He took up the game 14 years ago, in 1921, and showed the first signs of impending greatness when he annexed the singles title of the Club the following year.

He won the Open Singles in 1923, was runner-up in 1926 and regained the title once more in 1931.

He skipped the Hong Kong team in Shanghai last year in all three matches, and has represented Hong Kong on 1923, 1924, 1926, 1931, 1932, 1933 and 1934.

J. C. BROWN FILLS JONES' VACANCY IN OMAR'S RINK

4th Interport Encounter

SURPRISING OMISSION

(By "SKIP")

J. C. Brown (Kowloon B. G. C.) is generally regarded as one of the finest No. 3's in the Colony, and his omission from the Interport team in the first place caused some surprise.

Brown began bowling when the Kowloon Dock R.C. opened their green in 1923 and played for them continuously, in various positions, including the year when they won the championship without suffering a single defeat, for many years.

J. V. RAMSEY

RAMSEY IS BEST NO. 1 DOCKS HAVE YET PRODUCED

BEAT HIS SKIP IN COLONY EVENT

SHOULD BE INVALUABLE THIS AFTERNOON

(By "SKIP")

J. V. Ramsey (K.D.R.C.) is playing as an Interporter this year for the second time, his initial appearance being as No. 1 to A. M. Holland in 1933.

Ramsey, who is regarded as one of the finest No. 1's the Docks have ever produced, has been playing regularly for the team for the past five years.

The success that McKelvie's rink enjoyed this year has been due in no small measure to Ramsey.

He jumped into prominence this year when he sensationally defeated U. M. Omar in the Fourth Round of the Colony singles championship. He is a reliable and talented player and should prove invaluable to Omar when they meet Shanghai in the last game of the series to-day.

2 HARBOUR SWIMS FOR THIS EVENING

VERY FEW ENTRIES EXPECTED

COOKE MAY AGAIN PARTICIPATE

(By "CRAWL")

The Cross Harbour race, organised and held under the auspices of the Victoria Recreation Club, will take place this evening, commencing from the Railway Pier, at Kowloon, at 5:15 p.m. and terminating at the Victoria Recreation Club.

It was unfortunate that this year's harbour swim again coincided with the China National Games, this resulting in very few entries, most of which will be from the V.R.C.

I understand that the Army are entering several men, from the East Lancashire Regiment and from the Royal Engineers.

Likely Starters

Wilfred Lawrence, the present holder and Colony champion, is a likely starter, while L. Roza-Pereira, a former holder, and A. A. da Roza, are others. It is to be hoped that J. C. Cooke, the veteran swimmer, who has not missed a harbour swim for quite a number of years, will again be one of the starters.

WELSH LADY IN FRENCH GOLF SEMI-FINAL

Miss Rene Lacoste Again
Enters Final Round

London, September 19. Miss I. Rieben (Aberdovey) the Welsh International golfer, to-day won her second round match in the French women's open golf championship, beating Madame Jacqueline de Rothschild, of La Nivelle, by two holes, and meets Mlle. Francine Tollen (Saint Cloud), winner in 1933, in the semi-final this afternoon.

The only other British player left in the championship, Mrs. H. Wilburham (Thorndon Park) was beaten 6-5, by Mme. Rene Lacoste, who, as Mlle. Thione de la Channe, won the title in 1925, 1927, and 1930.

POLICE OPEN MAMAK LEAGUE WITH VICTORY

Wilson's Sound
Display

SIGNALS HARD PRESSED
BUT GAME

A fine display by Wilson, at centre-forward, and the good performances of Blackburn and Heyward, in the defence, were the outstanding features of the hockey encounter between the European Police and the Royal Corps of Signals in the "A" Division of the Mamak Hockey Tournament on the Police Training School ground yesterday, when the Police won by the odd goal in three.

The game was very even and interesting, and, on the form shown yesterday, both teams should give a good account of themselves in the Tournament.

The Signals did a lot of pressing in the latter part of the second-half, but the good defensive work of Blackburn and the wonderful manner in which Heyward covered him prevented them from equalising.

Wilson Outstanding

The outstanding player in the Police forward line was Wilson. He played a true leader's game.

FRED PERRY NOT TO PLAY FOR TWO MONTHS

Severe Contusions Of Ribs
Abdomen And Spine

London, September 17. As a result of his fall in his match with Wilmer Allison in the American championship at Forest Hills, Fred Perry has been forbidden to play for at least two months. The champion has severe contusions of the ribs, abdomen and spine—according to the X-ray photographs, but fears that a kidney had been injured have proved unfounded.

Perry and his film-star wife, Helen Vinson, have left New York for California. He will rest for several weeks before going to Australia to continue his tour.

distributing the ball well and keeping both his wings continually on the move. His pass, which enabled Pennell to score the winning goal, was a very well judged one.

Another player to catch the eye was Blackburn. He played a cool and collected game, tackled fearfully and was prominent with some hard hitting. Hayward, in support, covered Blackburn well and played a very sound game.

Gough, at centre-half, was good and was well supported by Tate on the left and Dowman, who though seldom very brilliant, played a useful game.

SHANGHAI BOWLERS' SECOND DEFEAT TROUTED BY COMBINED C.C.C.-I.R.C. RINK

DALLAH PLAYS BRILLIANTLY
IN LOCAL QUARTETTE

(By "Skip")

A COMBINED Craigengower-Indian R.C. bowls quartette yesterday accomplished a feat which had proved too difficult for both the local Interport rinks when they defeated the Shanghai bowlers by the convincing margin of 9 shots on the Craigengower green. The final score was 20-11, the local bowlers making 10 shots on the last seven heads without reply from their opponents.

This is the second defeat the Interporters from the north have suffered since they arrived in the Colony—they were first mastered by the Police R.C. and Civil Service C.C. quartette on the day of their arrival. Yesterday's win is perhaps the more meritorious, however, as certain allowances had to be made for the visitors when they lost their first match as they had only just disembarked from the steamer.

In fairness to them it must be stated that yesterday's four did not appear to be their strongest combination—Munro and Richards did not play—the idea evidently being to give each player an opportunity to play in a different position.

The standard of play was not particularly high, although some very clever shots were demonstrated by the players on both sides. R. Bassa (Craigengower), who skipped the local rink, played a very sound and cautious game, but on one or two occasions he might have been a little more enterprising.

His opposite, J. W. Brierley, was not at home in the skip's berth, and was almost lamentably short on a large number of heads. He, too, lacked initiative. H. Beer (Craigengower) played No. 3, and did everything expected of him with deserving success. He did not permit the brilliant left-handed Shanghai bowler, Glover, to out-general him at any time during the match.

Dallah Shines

Dallah (Indian R.C.) played splendidly at No. 2, and was the outstanding figure among the local players. On many occasions he had both his bowls within a foot of their objective.

W. Train, Shanghai's No. 2, although he has been seen to better advantage, nevertheless, played very consistently, as did J. Lopes, the northerner's lead. D. M. Khan, did not quite come up to the desired standard.

JENKINS TAKES 4 FOR 61

Shanghai, October 13.

Although lowering clouds threatened throughout, yesterday's rain held off to allow the Shanghai Interport cricket side to complete their practice game against the Rest of Shanghai at the Cricket Club's ground. With a very strong batting side, the Interport selection went in first and ran up a good total. Several useful scores were made, the best of which was 75, compiled by L. F. Stokes, who has again found his form: 12 shots were sent by him to the boundary. The match was drawn.

Douglas Smart In Form
Over New Course

Shanghai, October 8. Playing in a foursome match at Hungjiao on Sunday afternoon, Douglas Smart holed the 13th hole (185 yards) in one. He used a number 3 iron, and his well-played shot went true. Previous to this outstanding performance, in his medal round in the morning, he returned a score of 75, minus 7, or nett 68, this being one of the lowest scores reached on the new course at Hungjiao.

CHINESE Y.M.C.A.

Remarkable Display
Of Photographs

IMPRESSIONS OF JAPAN

An exhibition of photographs of Japan, of both scenic and cultural interest, is open to the public at the Chinese Y.M.C.A. in Bridges Street, to-day and to-morrow, from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. each day.

These photographs are enlargements of snap-shots taken during the recent Cultural Inspection Tour of Japan organised by the Lingnan University of Canton, by an enterprising member of the party, Mr. Ho Tit-wah.

The tour covered such places as Osaka, Tokyo, Yokohama, Kobe, and other less important towns, and Fujiyama. During the entire trip Mr. Ho took no less than 500 snap-shots, of which he has placed some 250 enlargements on exhibition.

At the close of this exhibition Mr. Ho will leave immediately for the North to give similar exhibition in other important centres.

Those who may wish to view Japan at close range are cordially invited.

Dual Celebration At Headquarters
DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY

The Chinese Y.M.C.A. will hold a dual celebration to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of the Y.M.C.A. movement in China, and its thirty-fifth anniversary in Hong Kong, at its headquarters in Bridges Street this evening, at 7.30 p.m.

The Y.M.C.A. movement in China dates back to the year 1885. The first Associations were established in schools, one in Loo Ho College, Tungchow, and another in the Anglo-Chinese College, Foochow, while the local Chinese Y.M.C.A. was established in 1901.

The programme for the evening has been entirely undertaken by members of the Junior Department of the Association.

Members are requested to present their membership cards in order to obtain tickets of admission.

London Woman Dies
At 105

Mrs. Christiana Sowersby, of Woodberry Grove, North Finchley, died last month at the age of 105. Born at Skerne, Yorkshire, only two months after William IV came to the Throne, she married a farmer at Langtoft in the East Riding and had nine children. She was left a widow 40 years ago and lived at the farm with her eldest son, who died last year aged 81. Mrs. Sowersby came to Finchley in 1920 to make her home with her son-in-law and youngest daughter. The journey was made by motor-car, her first experience of that form of travel, and her last. She refused to go in a car again.

ITALIAN ADVANCE
HELD UP

It is understood that he will proceed to Abyssinia with the Italian armies as an observer, if Signor Mussolini permits foreign military observers to accompany the armies. Major Fiske is a graduate of the Italian Cavalry School.—Reuter.

Adowa Annexed By Italy

Rome: Adowa and the surrounding regions were formally annexed by General de Bono in the name of the King of Italy on Monday, states a report from the front issued by the propaganda Ministry on Tuesday.

He then reviewed the Gavina Division, afterwards addressing Abyssinian chiefs and inhabitants numbering some 4,000.

Reconnaissance flights are reported as having taken place to the south of Makale, in the course of which detachments of Abyssinian troops marching northwards were dispersed and a camp of about 300 tents on the northern slopes of Amba Alogai as well as the ammunition depot in Belmarian were bombed, the latter being blown up.

A number of natives in the western plains have subjected themselves to the Italian authorities. Great prominence is given by the Press to the announcement of the annexation of Adowa and the surrounding districts, which it is pointed out, is now a part of Italy and therefore excluded from the discussion in the eventual peace negotiations.

HAWARIATE'S OPTIMISM
Brussels: "Abyssinia can hold out for 15 years if necessary and victory will be hers in the end," declared M. Hawariate, Abyssinia's delegate to Geneva, to pressmen in the Belgian capital, where he is at present staying before returning to Abyssinia in order to take up an active army command in preference to representing his country at Geneva.

Negotiations between Italy and Abyssinia in the present circumstances were impossible, he continued. The Italians must first completely withdraw from the occupied territories. "Abyssinia can afford to wait," affirmed Hawariate, "whereas Italy undoubtedly cannot."

Abyssinia's former Minister at Paris then expressed satisfaction at the raising of the embargo of munitions to Abyssinia by the Belgian Government which will enable the Abyssinians to reduce the disparity between Italian and their own armaments to some extent.

It is assumed that the purpose of M. Hawariate's visit here is to place orders with Belgian armament firms.

BADOGLIO AT ASMARA
Asmara: The Italian Chief of Staff, Field-Marshal Badoglio, arrived at Asmara on Tuesday and immediately went to the Italian Headquarters, from where he will proceed to the front.

It is understood that the inactivity during the last few days on the northern front is due to Marshal Badoglio's desire to review the situation before further operations are undertaken.

Informal quarters here consider his arrival may be the signal for a renewal of the Italian offensive.

MORE MEN WANTED
Rome: The age limit for eligibility for medical re-examination of those who were originally found to be physically unfit has just been raised throughout Italy from 32 years to 55 years.

BARCLAY'S BANK GUARDED
Rome: The British Consulate, the business premises of the branch of Barclay's Bank, a British bookshop on the Piazza d'Esperia have been placed under the protection of a strong detachment of police, because of the threatening attitude taken up by the demonstrators.

The measures taken for the protection of the British Embassy are still being maintained, but in a less conspicuous form. The homes and personnel of the Embassy staff are under the protection of the secret police.—Trans-Ocean Service.

Homework
We went into the house again. "Come in," said Gem, "and I will show you the cups." Her championship trophies of three years fill three tables.

"And now I suppose it's school again for you," I said. "What does that make you think of—homework?"

"No homework!" said Gem, and make a little face.

EARLIER MESSAGES

First Large-Scale Battle
Expected This Week

Addis Ababa: The first battle on a really big scale is expected to begin almost immediately in the province of Ogaden, on the southern front, according to dispatches received here which state that upwards of 200,000 Abyssinians are facing "the Italian Somaliland army" consisting of three European and two native divisions under General Graziano's command.

The same despatches likewise afford some explanation of the contradictory reports which alternately asserted that the Italians were only 50 miles from the town of Harar and that heavy fighting was taking place in the vicinity of Ual Ual and Gerlogubi, which is nearly 300 miles distant from Harar.

FORCEFUL MARCHES
It now appears that General Graziano succeeded in penetrating with several divisions far into the province of Ogaden by dint of forceful marches along the frontiers of British Somaliland.

General Graziano's advance guard is believed to be nearing the old caravan route which leads from the Red Sea, from the port of Berbera, in British Somaliland, to the towns of Jijiga and Harar.

This route is very important from the standpoint of the importation of arms into Abyssinia, especially since, according to an unconfirmed report here, Italy has proposed to France that the railway from Djibouti to Addis Ababa should be allowed to remain intact if no arms were conveyed on this line.

On the other hand the Abyssinians are said to have maintained their positions in the neighbourhood of Ual Ual and Gerlogubi.—Trans-Ocean Service.

MOBILISATION COMPLETED
Addis Ababa: The general mobilisation is now stated to have been completed. Strong forces have taken up those positions assigned to them. All preparations for an Abyssinian offensive movement have been taken and it is generally anticipated that an Abyssinian counter-attack will be opened at the beginning of next week.

Ras Gugsa's surrender to the Italians has been confirmed here, it being stated that he left his position on the Makale front during the night and, accompanied by his bodyguard of 200 men, went over to the Italian lines.

GREAT INDIGNATION
The Makale sector was immediately taken over by the troops of Ras Seyoum and great indignation is said to be prevailing among the Makale troops over Ras Gugsa's defection.

He is characterised here as an wholly insignificant personage, and his successor has not yet been named.

Fifty thousand men of the Second Reserve are now camping near the capital and it is announced that the War Minister will leave for the front in the course of this week.

BISHOP OF AKSUM DIES

Budapest: On the same day as the holy city of Aksum fell into the hands of Italian troops the Catholic Titular Bishop of Aksum died here at the age of 87. The deceased, who was named Wolfe R. Radney and who was of Hungarian nationality, was formerly diocesan Bishop for Slovakia, but after the cessation of the latter territory to the new Czechoslovakian State he returned to Hungary and settled for the appearance in London of Mei Lan-Fang, the famous Chinese actor.

BERGNER IN NOVEMBER
The new Barrie play, in which Elisabeth Bergner is to appear, will be staged about the end of November, and Mr. Cochran said that by the time he returns he hopes that arrangements will be settled for the appearance in London of Mei Lan-Fang, the famous Chinese actor.

Mr. Pelham Leaving For England By The Cathay

It is announced that Mr. G. C. Pelham, H. M. Trade Commissioner in Hong Kong and Commercial Secretary to His Majesty's Embassy at Peking (for South China), is proceeding to England on the a.s. Cathay, sailing on November 2.

Mr. Pelham, who has served on the China coast for the last 12 years, first in the Consular Service and subsequently in the Commercial Diplomatic Service, has recently completed a continuous period of service of five years spent in Peking, Shanghai and Hong Kong.

Mr. E. H. Scott will take over charge of the office of H. M. Trade Commissioner and Commercial Secretary. Mr. Scott was formerly Private Secretary to Sir Miles Lampson (now High Commissioner in Egypt) and has recently served in the office of H. M. Commercial Counsellor in Shanghai, and in the Consulate-General at Canton.

SCREEN SUCCESS
FOR WILL HAY"Boys Will Be Boys"PICKING POCKETS AND POKER AS PASTIMES

Will Hay scores his greatest screen success so far in "Boys Will Be Boys," the new Gainsborough picture, which it is hoped may one day be seen in Hong Kong. Once again he is a schoolmaster—this time at Narkover, teaching a gang of young ruffians whose chief pastimes are poker and picking pockets.

A convict (Gordon Harker), whom the headmaster has met during his tutorship at Dartmoor, turns up and demands a job. The rest of the picture is devoted to the theft of a diamond necklace and a battle for it, on the football field.

Mr. Hay tore a ligament in his shoulder on the first day's shooting of this last scene, and is still suffering from the effects.

William Beaudine, the director, has kept the fun moving at an American tempo. The picture should have a wide appeal.

BERGNER IN NOVEMBER

The new Barrie play, in which Elisabeth Bergner is to appear, will be staged about the end of November, and Mr. Cochran said that by the time he returns he hopes that arrangements will be settled for the appearance in London of Mei Lan-Fang, the famous Chinese actor.

Jubilee AppealBIG MUSICAL COMEDY
FOR WINTER

London, September 12.

Mr. C. B. Cochran's energies for the last few weeks were spent in arranging the Mammoth Cabaret, and he still hopes to raise the full £10,000 for the Actors' Benevolent Jubilee Appeal by the end of the year.

When he returns Mr. Cochran will get to work at once on a second production of "Anything Goes." Unfortunately he will be unable to secure Gertrude Lawrence, who is going into the new comedy by Noel Coward.

Preliminary Plans

Preliminary plans are already made for "Dalliance," Edward Knoblock's version of Schnitzler's "Liebelei," with music by Oscar Strauss and lyrics by Harry Graham.

Before the winter is over he hopes to produce a new revue, and also one of the biggest musical comedies he has ever staged. In addition he still has the revised "Dr. Mesmer" in hand, as well as "Mrs. Aphra Behn," a play by a new author based on the famous 18th century dramatist, which he talks of putting on this autumn.

WALLACE BERRY IN
ENGLANDMay Follow Brother
Noah's Example

London, September 12.

Mr. Wallace Berry, the American film star, may make a picture in England soon.

Mr. Berry arrived at Southampton yesterday in the Majestic from New York with his wife and four-year-old daughter, Carol Ann, for a holiday. After spending a week or two here, they are going on to Vienna and Budapest, and return to America in about six weeks.

"While I am in England," Mr. Berry said, "I shall visit several British producers, including Mr. Alexander Korda, to discuss matters with them. It is possible that I may make a picture in this country later on."

Mr. Berry is anxious that his holiday shall be a real holiday, undisturbed by publicity or business.

FUND FOR ELGAR'S
BIRTHPLACEWide Influence Of
His MusicSTRIKING TRIBUTES
OF AFFECTION

London, September 12.

The response to the appeal for the endowment of Elgar's birthplace as a national memorial continues to bring striking evidence of the affection which he inspires among music-lovers of all classes.

Contributions to-day give additional proof—if this were needed—of the altogether exceptional influence which Elgar's art exercises over his fellow-countrymen. When the museum is opened it is proposed to put on permanent record there the names of all those who have helped to endow it.

Appreciative Donors

The letters and messages appreciative of Elgar's music which have accompanied contributions will, for the benefit of the future historian, also find a home in this memorial to the composer.

Here are some of those received to-day:

Among many happy experiences with this composer's music the performance of his First Symphony in Worcester Cathedral three years ago, with the sun streaming through the window upon his white head, remains a vivid memory.

It is good to know that Elgar is acclaimed as one of the greatest—and is to be honoured with such tributes.

With thankfulness for music do I say in the Three Choirs Festival, Gloucester, 1904-12. Wallace in Worcester I had a visit to Elgar's birthplace. When I was there I saw and arranged it will be a fitting and proud privilege to make it an object of affection.

In appreciation of a great English genius whom I saw for the last time conducting his Violin Concerto at the Albert Hall on a Sunday afternoon, I will never forget the happy, proud and grandly smiling face he gave to his soloist, young Menuhin.

I wish I could send a sum that adequately represented my appreciation of Elgar's glorious music. In grateful appreciation of the facilities given to myself and countless others in like circumstances by Sir Edward during his lifetime in recording his works for the gramophone under his own direction even up to the very last.

His brother Noah has been working in the Gaumont-British production, "King of the Dawn."

Life-Saving Flights

The account of the work of the "Flying Doctor" service given to the British Medical Association in Melbourne recently must rouse public interest in the development of aviation for the provision of medical treatment. Over an area of Australia larger than Western Europe are scattered thousands of isolated settlers, whose nearest hospital and doctor may be hundreds of miles away. In 1929 the Australian Inland Mission arranged for an aeroplane to be constantly at the service of the medical officer at the base in this "out-back" region, and arranged for wireless communication with lonely outpost stations. A typical year sees the "Flying Doctor's" plane travel 16,000 miles and attend 200 patients. Not merely hours, but days are saved for the sufferers. Cases of grave emergency are brought in speed and comfort to that hospital treatment which is imperative. Each year, Dr. Vickers modestly claimed, has seen at least two or three "life-saving flights," cases in which death would have been certain but for the doctor's aeroplane. But every flight has saved patients from pain and reduced the length of illness, many have prevented permanent disability.

Though Australia has the honour of pioneer work in the organisation of aerial medical service, there have been many striking examples in all parts of the world of the employment of the aeroplane for medical purposes. Surgeons and physicians have made flights of great distances to cases of difficulty. The specialist of Harley-street goes by air to operate at the other side of the world. Again and again a serum has been conveyed thousands of miles to the sufferer for whom it was the one chance of life. In frontier campaigns the use of planes for casualties has been successfully tested. The British Red Cross Society has a flying branch for the removal of urgent cases from outlying districts to central hospitals. We sometimes read of the use of the aeroplane or the need of an aeroplane which was not available to aid a sufferer in the more remote parts of Great Britain. Australia, intent on developing the work of her "Flying Doctor," looks forward to a time when other Dominions will have joined in establishing a British Empire Aerial Medical Service. Even in their own compact islands Britons should be the better for a share of such an organisation.

The Smoke Plague

When the London Smoke Abatement Society was told by Dr. Lessing recently that air pollution causes damage to the amount of not less than £1 per annum per head of the urban population he was certainly not exaggerating. Sir Frank Baines has calculated that during the last twenty-five years £55,000,000 to £60,000,000 at the least have been spent in making good the effects of smoke on buildings. About 4 per cent. of the cost of maintaining Government property in London is due to soot corrosion. £50,000,000 a year, it has been estimated, would not more than cover the cost of all the repairs and redecoration, extra lighting and laundry work which we owe to the dirt from our chimneys. To all this must be added the loss caused by the interference of smoky fog with business. Moreover, the products which pollute the atmosphere have a market value. To pour tar and sulphur into the air is waste which adds extravagantly to fuel bills of industry and household. Yet the financial loss is not the worst effect of the smoke plague. It impairs health both through loss of sunlight and by the dirt in the air. It breeds rickets and tuberculosis and those respiratory diseases which cause 10 per cent. of the death-rate.

A good deal has been done of late years to diminish air pollution by smoke, and speakers at the Abatement Society's meeting, though admitting a slow change for the better, hardly did full justice to its effects. The increased use of smokeless heating—gas, electricity, or other forms—and the more scientific use of fuel in industry are making for cleaner urban air. But the air is yet very far from being clean. Dr. Lessing urged yesterday that there should be a comprehensive inquiry into the causes of air pollution. There is actually an authoritative inquiry of this kind in continuous process. Under the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research the Fuel Research Board has established a station for investigating air pollution in all parts of the country and methods of prevention. There is certainly no royal road to brighter cities, and industry will need all the assistance that science can give.

HISTORIC MARCHES

History set to music are the regimental marches which sounded through Rushmore Arena at the Jubilee Review.

The "Ca Ira" of the West Yorkshire Regiment, for instance, was a battle-honour won in 1793 at Famars. There the 14th, flung against the Revolutionary French, were ordered by their colonel to "break them to their own damned tune."

The 2nd Batt. the Cameronians always prelude their march past, the "Gathering of the Grahams," with the Battalion call, beginning and ending with rolls on the drum.

Commemorating days before they became Rifles, who do not carry Colours, they use the first phrase of their former slow march, "Garb of Old Gaul," for the General Salute.

HANDEL FOR THE BUFFS

Handel composed the stately march of the Buffs, befitting an ancient regiment. The "Royal Windsor," bestowed upon the Worcestershire Regiment when stationed at Windsor in 1791, was composed by Princess Augusta, daughter of George III.

The Royal Norfolk Regiment matches its march to its badge with "Rule Britannia."

Still more patriotically the Queen's Regiment marched to "God Save the Queen," until in 1881 the Portuguese march "Braganza" was adopted as suitable to Charles II's Queen, the regiment's sponsor in 1661.

Recently the Duke of Cornwall's Light Infantry have officially combined two marches into one. This has been done by adding the Cornish ballad "Shall Trelawny Die?" to "One and All," which dates from 1811.

Shakespeare is mentioned in the words of "Warwickshire Lads" attributed to Garrick, the march of the "Warwick."

Your Daily Smile!

The Boss
Two small children were working in the garden. The older boy "bossed" until the little fellow called: "Mother, please come and speak to James. He thinks he is a woman."

Curious
"I see that you have shut off all the gas in your house and are using nothing but candles. What is that for?"
"Merely out of curiosity. I want to see if it will make any difference in my gas bills."

Handy Instrument
Bandman (about to practise): "The mouthpiece of my cornet tastes funny to-night."
Daughter: "Oh, I forgot to tell you. I used it to fill the lamp, as I could not find the kerosene funnel."

Not Joint Control

With Tom it is very different. Every evening he is at home; during the week-end school is almost off the map. Obviously there is a problem. Parent and schoolmaster are both daily responsible for the lad's development, and if the best results are to be obtained a real and sympathetic understanding must be established between the two authorities.

How can this fundamental condition of co-operation be secured?

The first thing that any reasonable parent will recognise is that co-operation does not mean joint control of the school. It is a simple fact that a man does any job best, whether it be big or small, when he assumes full responsibility. Any attempt on the part of parents to dictate a policy or to interfere with the discipline of the school can end only in disaster; it impairs the headmaster's authority and stultifies his efforts.

It is even questionable whether the habit of electing a parents' representative to the governing body is free from danger.

The soundest policy, and it is the policy of all the great schools of the country, is to trust your headmaster, to expect of him a measure of wisdom, sympathy and understanding, and to leave the school in his hands. The governing body is there to take account of his stewardship, and to listen to any just complaints. But, given that essential freedom, the school not only expects but seeks the critical co-operation of its parents.

I have heard a senior master, a devoted teacher, complain bitterly that it was only the parents of his successful boys who ever came to consult him.

In The Home

We schoolmasters do frankly realise that we see the boys only from one angle. It helps us enormously if parents will come and explain to us a boy's reactions in the home.

But equally it is of vital importance to the parent to learn the school-master's point of view. He will be told how the boy reacts in all phases of school life, in class, on the playing fields, in school societies, on school journeys.

Parents are sometimes sadly misled by judging their boys solely on their behaviour in the family circle.

Moreover to accept, as some parents are prone to do, a boy's

Hau Chuk-yin, a rent collector, has reported to the Police that in the course of his duties he received a forged $10 Chartered Bank note.

A large fire raged on the hillside near the Tytan Reservoir on Monday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. A large area of grass, trees and shrubs were burnt, but no other damage was reported.

Mr. D. Costa reports that while the Northern Star ferry was crossing from Hong Kong last night at 11.45, someone threw into the harbour three life buoys valued at $21.

David Yee, of No. 11 Babington Path, was yesterday bitten on the hand by his dog. He was treated at the Government Civil Hospital and the dog is under the observation of the Colonial Veterinary Surgeon.

version of a supposed grievance without inquiry is patently foolish. The young boy does not see things in their true perspective. The only safeguard is personal contact between school and parent.

It is for this purpose that almost all schools hold parents' evenings. But formal occasions are not sufficient. They must be followed up by further consultations in all cases where difficulties arise. No good schoolmaster ever turns a deaf ear to a sincere parent.

The first necessity for co-operation arises with the school doctor. It is imperative that the school should know the physical condition of the boy with whom it has to deal. There is no question of impertinent inquisition; the parent is always invited to attend the examination and to make any observation that may be of assistance to the doctor. The record card is intended to help the boy and is consulted by his form-master.

Strenuous Life

But it is in the daily life of his boy that the parent's co-operation is sometimes lacking. A schoolboy's life is nowadays a strenuous affair. Work, games, and a multitude of societies and organisations make a constant call upon his time. There are real disadvantages in the boarding school, but one advantage it has got is that it is able to order a boy's entire working day.

The day school here must rely upon the parent's co-operation. It demands some parental self-sacrifice—but most parents will willingly give that—to see that the boy gets up at the appointed time, without a scramble to school, does his homework under proper conditions, and enjoys an adequate amount of sleep.

The problem of homework will sometimes try his patience. Schoolmasters are convinced that if a boy is to make sure progress, he must be thrown daily on his own resources, to test his understanding of what he has learnt.

It is not possible for most schools, especially where the boys come from some distance, to do this work in school hours without sacrificing other school activities, whose loss would be severely felt. The school has to look to the home to make the proper safeguards. The difficulty will arise with the slow but conscientious boy, who dislikes being cut off from a task before it is finished, even more than with the boy who has a rooted dislike to personal exertion.

The Best Test

Nevertheless the parent must be firm; a note on the paper of the time taken to do a task, with the parent's signature, is all that the schoolmaster requires. To undue strain in a boy's life the schoolmasters as opposed, but they are equally convinced that they cannot afford to let their pupils think that life is merely pleasant.

The best test is the boy's capacity to start the day fresh and happy.

BROADCAST ADDRESS BY SIR S. HOARE

BRITISH POLICY OUTLINED

BARRIERS TO INTERNATIONAL TRADE WORLD'S PROBLEM

London, To-day.

The Foreign Secretary, Sir Samuel Hoare, gave a broadcast address yesterday afternoon to the Fifth Annual Women's Conference on current problems at a meeting in New York.

He said that he hoped that his speech in the League Assembly on September 11 had established beyond doubt that the British people were solidly behind the Covenant and had determination to resist all acts of unprovoked aggression and to substitute peaceful methods of settlement for war.

He had tried to look beyond the immediate political difficulties to the causes of bitterness and strife and had selected for special attention among the causes to be removed the question of control and distribution of colonial raw materials. He had suggested it would be well to anticipate the controversy by examining this question without unnecessary delay.

WORLD'S MALADY

Sir Samuel then commended to his hearers the recent publication of the economic section of the League Secretariat, called, "Remarks on the present phase of international and economic relations," describing it as a sermon on the folly of our times. He cited the statement, "The malady from which the world is now suffering is no longer entirely a crisis, but rather the inability of countries to co-ordinate their several efforts to emerge from the crisis," and himself continued, "I fully agree."

"It seems to me that the lowering of barriers to international trade, slow and difficult as the task must inevitably be, is one of the fundamentals of the tasks of the present time. It is a task that must be persistently and courageously pursued, not only by Ministers of Commerce who desire to promote the economic welfare of the world but also more by all those who wish to promote international friendship and to serve the great cause of peace."

U.S. AND FRENCH SUPPORT

The Foreign Secretary referred appreciatively to the constant advocacy of these ideals by the American Secretary of State, Mr. Cordell Hull, and to the sympathetic remarks in the same sense made by the French Minister of Commerce, M. Bonnet, in the League Assembly.

He recalled that when the Assembly adopted the resolution recommending freer trade between nations Mr. Hull had sent a message cordially supporting the League's endeavours. It was the source of great encouragement that the Governments of three great trading nations were looking in the same direction, but the road ahead would not be easy. "It is never easy to take the long view as against the short and remember the ultimate good of all rather than the immediate advantages of each."

In conclusion, Sir Samuel Hoare said that in democracies statesmen must appeal to the understanding and imagination of the people, for if they could not carry the people their individual wisdom was of no avail. "This is why I welcome the chance of speaking to a great American audience. I want to convince you that we in Great Britain stand for the abolition of war and the mentality of war whether on the field of battle or on the field of commerce, industry and labour. We want a new world and a new order in human relations in which peace and justice, trade and intercourse shall be secure, and I am sure that these are also your wishes and ideals."—British Wireless Service.

SAFETY FIRST WEEK IN H.K. NEXT MONTH

Second Campaign To Be Launched

FILMS AND LECTURES

A "Safety First Week" similar to the one held during January and February of last year is being organised by the Hong Kong Police for the fortnight commencing on November 18 and terminating on the last day of the month.

This year, although the funds at the disposal of the authorities are limited, the campaign will be carried out on a slightly larger scale and all manner of methods of informing or teaching the illiterate will be employed.

Placards will be posted on all main and other street corners, while thousands of handbills will be distributed throughout the week.

A "Safety First" film will be shown at all the leading theatres and will be practically in the same form as last year's film, with additions.

Street Lectures

The Secretariat for Chinese Affairs is also contributing to the campaign by lending Chinese lecturers who will lecture in the streets and on the playing fields. In addition to this there will be daily instruction in all schools and talks over the wireless.

Last year motorists were not quite in favour of the red triangular "Safety First" emblem which they were asked to display on the front wind-screen of their vehicles and this year the authorities have made a much smaller emblem which is, however, still discernible by "jay-walkers."

This year's placards will be in three panels, the first depicting a jay-walker with a motor-car approaching from behind, the second with the jay-walker knocked down and the third with an ambulance conveying the jay-walker to the hospital or to the mortuary.

The public and others are asked to co-operate with the Police authorities towards the success of the campaign and reasonable suggestions are invited.

SIXTH NATIONAL CONGRESS

Another Postponement Expected

Nanking, To-day.

It is believed in well-informed circles that the Sixth National Congress will again be postponed on account of the Government's desire to avoid prolonging the dispute with the South-west concerning the contents of the agenda.

A decision on the matter is expected shortly as a result of the conferences at present being held between Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, Mr. Wang Ching-wei and others at Nanking.—Reuter.

One case of diphtheria and two cases of typhoid fever were reported in the Colony during the 24 hours ended on Monday.

FULL COURT OF APPEAL IS CALLED

Infringement Of Trade Mark Alleged

"SANKESIN" AND "SANKELIN"

Before His Honour the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, and the Puisne Judge, Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell, in the Full Court of Appeal this morning, the United States Drug Store, of No. 5, Wing Lok Street, appealed against the decision of the Magistrate, Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen, who held that there was no case to answer when the manager of the Sino-German Dispensary, of No. 8a, Wing Lok Street, brought a summons under the Trade Mark Ordinance.

Mr. Eldon Potter, K.C., instructed by Mr. M. K. Lo, appeared on behalf of the appellant, while the respondent was represented by Mr. Hing Shing-lo, instructed by Mr. J. M. Hall.

In outlining his case before the Court, Mr. Potter said that the summons had been taken out under Section 32 of the Merchandise Trade Marks Ordinance. The charge was that the respondent had been selling medicine to which a mark so nearly resembling the appellant's trade mark as to be calculated to deceive had been applied.

The appellant's trade mark consisted of a word composed of three Chinese characters, and Mr. Potter emphasised, very strongly that the trade mark was a word, and held that it was very important to the case. The word was "Sankesin," and it was registered in Class Three for Medicines.

"OBVIOUS INFRINGEMENT" The word that the respondent had used for his product was "Sankelin," declared counsel, stressing that the first and second words were identical, which was an obvious infringement, and as such came within the scope of the Merchandise Ordinance.

"It is in evidence," Mr. Potter continued, "that a customer went to the defendant's shop and asked for a packet of 'Sinkesin' and was given 'Sinkelin.'" It is also in the evidence that registration of the latter article was refused by the Registrar of Trade Marks.

Mr. Hing Shing-lo interposed at this juncture and submitted, on the contrary, that application for registration had been withdrawn by the respondent, and Mr. Potter agreed that this was so.

Mr. Potter went on to say that the fact that the general get-up of the two packages were entirely different had no bearing whatever on the case, the point being that a substantial part of the appellant's trade mark had been taken.

SIX SUBMISSIONS Mr. Potter then made the following submissions:

1. The Ordinance protected the owners of trade-marks.
2. Intention to deceive purchasers is not within the region of evidence.
3. An offence was committed if something was done that the Ordinance prohibits.

4. The Ordinance prohibits the sale of goods bearing any mark so nearly resembling the registered mark as to be calculated to deceive.

5. In ascertaining the way the mark was calculated to deceive it is given as precisely the same as in a case of infringement.

6. If the mark, or a substantial part of it, is taken the get-up is entirely irrelevant.

The defence was that whereas there were only three characters in the appellant's medicine, there were 10 on the respondent's. Mr. Hing Shing-lo admitted that two of the characters were the same, but submitted that if they were taken together they had an entirely different meaning.

The hearing was adjourned at this point until this afternoon.

To-day's Short Story

ONE WORD FROM YOU!

By A. P. Garland

CAGED in the corner of a large and well-furnished suburban lounge, a grey, evil-looking parrot sat brooding.

A few feet away from the cage a middle-aged couple sat brooding.

Old Parr, the parrot, was brooding over the infinite: the Binns were brooding over Old Parr.

"Stephen, I can't go on much longer," Mrs. Binn was saying.

"My nerves are torn to rags," replied her husband.

Then the two glowered at Old Parr, who ferociously glowered back.

Peter Colby, ex-skipper of dirty tramp steamers, was dead and buried and his nephew, Stephen Binn, and Effie Binn had come back to the cottage to hear the will read.

Peter had been a foul-mouthed old ruffian, a frequenter of four-ale bars, and a man so lost to decency that he had been seen in the street eating chip potatoes from a paper bag.

To Stephen Binn, prosperous estate agent, to Effie Binn, and to their daughter, Ruth, Peter, since he had settled on shore, had been a menace. What would the nice people—many of them county class—with whom they were now mixing think if they learned that the disreputable old sailor was a close relation of theirs?

Kattowitz, To-day.

are convinced that the great European war was the last of all the great conflicts.

In reality, the journal continues, the economic interests of the great British capitalist class are behind the Government, but the British people must reflect that it will stand alone, or almost so, when, after the economic sanctions collapse like a house of cards, the British Government resorts to the blockade as its trump card.

TWO DEPUTATIONS

London: Mr. Stanley Baldwin, the Prime Minister, who was accompanied by the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, yesterday received two small deputations of Conservative members of both Houses of Parliament, one being brought by Mr. Amery, and the other representing the Imperial Policy Group. The purpose of their visit was to put before him their views on foreign policy, with special reference to the Italo-Abyssinia dispute and its treatment at Geneva.

Mr. Amery has in recent speeches given voice to some misgivings regarding recent developments in the international situation, and it is assumed that he explained his doubts at the interview yesterday. He is also expected to speak in the debate on foreign affairs when the House of Commons reassembles on Tuesday next.—British Wireless Service.

Just as England has its C. I. D., the United States will have its F. B. I., which stands for Federal Bureau of Investigation.—Reuter.

Now all was well. The old probate had been convincingly buried. So complacently the Binn parents gazed at Mr. Dennis, the solicitor, as he produced the last will and testament of his client.

"To my nephew, Stephen Binn, I bequeath —"

Mr. Dennis paused dramatically and a slight smile seemed to play about his features—"my non-talking parrot, Old Parr, on the following conditions."

The two Binns grew suddenly rigid.

"The bird is to be housed permanently in Stephen's lounge; his cage is to be covered up only from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. daily; and his diet is to be chickweed and ripe corn in the ear."

TO-MORROW'S STORY

To-morrow's story will be "Treasure Hunt" by Peter Fleming.

"If my nephew accepts these conditions he is to receive the whole net income from my estate, as long as Old Parr is alive."

"Should he refuse, or fail to carry out the conditions of the bequest, or should Old Parr die, all my property is to go to my old shipmate, Cheam."

"I should like here to warn my nephew before he accepts the custody of the bird that, although Old Parr is a non-talking parrot, he is apt now and then to use an extremely foul expression, learned in the fo'c'sle, that would be very distressing in mixed company."

Mr. Dennis raised his head and gazed blandly at the Binns. He hated the sight of them.

The woman was the first to rally. "He was insane of course," said she. "We'll contest the will."

"Do," said the solicitor. "It's great fun going to law, and it helps the legal profession. There are so many deserving cases."

"It's an outrage," said Stephen hoarsely. "To have to keep a beastly parrot!"

"It won't cost you much. Old Parr is no sybarite. Plain food satisfies him."

"You think that funny?" said Stephen.

"Yes. Don't you?"

"Don't argue with him, Stephen," and his lady. "We've a solicitor of our own to advise us."

"Good," said Mr. Dennis. "But please let me know soon if you're going to accept this legacy. Until that's settled, Old Parr is my ward, and I'm a bit nervous. I've a growing family, and I'm afraid he'll blurt out that extremely foul expression in front of them. Anyhow, I tremble at the thought of what the expression must be."

Captain Colby said that it was extremely foul, and, with all respect to his memory, he was far from being a prude."

But the Binns refused to bandy words with this flippant man of law.

They went into conference in regard to the will. They hated the parrot, they hated the memory of the dead man, they detested Mr. Dennis, but—money was money.

In the end they swallowed their pride and agreed to accept the legacy.

In due course Old Parr took up his abode in the Binn household. He was a morose, cynical bird, with neither youth nor beauty to make up for his lack of conversational powers.

His cage was placed tentatively on a high pedestal in the lounge. Stephen was furious.

"For two pins I'd wring his rotten neck," he cried.

"Don't be a fool," said Effie. "Seven pounds a week is a lot of money."

"So long as he lives," Ruth reminded her parents.

"I'm told," said Effie, "that parrots live to great ages. Seventy or eighty was mentioned."

"He looks that now," said Ruth. "Not at all," said Stephen alarmed. He studied Old Parr closely, trying to discern from the bird's appearance how long the latter had, so to speak, trod the earth.

Happily for the family, Old Parr had all the earmarks of a tough bird, one that would wear well. Watching the parrot settle down to his chickweed and ripe corn in the ear, the Binns lost all fear that he would stage an early demise.

KUOMINTANG MEETING TO BE CALLED IN CANTON

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, To-day.
Nanking has sent no further reply to Canton's insistence that their four sweeping proposals be included in the agenda for the Fifth Kuomintang Congress. This means that the Central Authorities have stood firm in their rejection of the South-west proposals.

It is reported that the Fifth Kuomintang Congress will be held here on November 20, when a similar Congress in Nanking will have come to a close. Canton wants to see first what resolutions are passed by Nanking, and the work here will be of a supplementary nature, although the Canton resolutions will go deep into national problems.

Mr. Ku Cheng, President of the Judicial Yuan in Nanking, is stated to be dissatisfied with the foreign policy of the Wang Ching-wei Cabinet. His birthday will come on October 20. An effort will be made to send representatives to interview President Ku on his birthday and to elicit his views on the Canton Congress.

It is expected that Kuomintang leaders in Shanghai who do not hold any Government office may also support the four South-west proposals, which condemn the Nanking regime.

SHANGHAI SUPREME AT GAMES

EXPECTED RESULT
Shanghai, which won the aggregate championship at the last National Meet, was victorious once more this year in the track and field contests, for both the men's and women's divisions.

In the men's events Liang-shan, who depended entirely upon long distance runners, won third place. HONG KONG GIRLS' LOSE
The best women's volleyball match ever witnessed in Shanghai was played yesterday afternoon in the Second Round of the competition when the Kwangtung girls defeated their Hong Kong rivals after five games.

All the five games were closely fought, Hong Kong winning the first at 21-17. Kwangtung, however, came back strongly in the second game to win by 21-17, and, with strong smashing, won the third game by 24-22. Hong Kong then rallied to win the fourth game by 18-21.

The fifth game was the most exciting, though the score was not so close. Kwangtung finally winning by 21-12.

BASKETBALL SEMI-FINALS
In addition to Shanghai, who beat Hopei yesterday morning, Fukien and Kiangsu also qualified for the semi-finals of the Women's basketball by beating Honan and Peiping, respectively, in their Second Round matches yesterday afternoon.

Fukien, with a well balanced team, triumphed over Honan by the huge score of 54 to 13.

In another match Kiangsu defeated Peiping by only two points, the final score reading 26 against 24.

In the girls' baseball Hopei disposed of Shanghai by a score of 8 to 6, thereby winning the right to meet the strong Shanghai team to-morrow.

BASEBALL-THROW RECORD
The fair sex again contributed another National record yesterday afternoon when Miss Pui Ying-chu, of Shanghai, won the baseball-throw event with a heave of 50.45 metres.

SINKIANG RUMOURS DENIED

No Union With Soviet Russia

FAITHFULLY EXECUTING ALL NANKING'S INSTRUCTIONS

Tientsin, To-day.

In a lengthy telegram addressed yesterday to the Ta Kung Pao, a leading Chinese newspaper in Tientsin, General Sheng Shih-tsai, Commissioner of the Border Defence for Sinkiang, and General Li Yung, Chairman of the Sinkiang Provincial Government, categorically stated that the rumours which have been circulated here recently to the effect that the Sinkiang Provincial Government has severed its connection with the Central Government and joined Soviet Russia were pure fabrications, purposed to destroy the unification of China.

"We were completely surprised," declared the Sinkiang leaders, "when the news reached us that such rumours were afloat in North China." Since the reorganisation of the Sinkiang Provincial Government, they continued, we, as military and civil governors of this province, have taken it to be our duty to be loyal to the Central Government, in the hope of hastening the unification of China.

According to Generals Sheng and Li, Sinkiang is now concentrating its efforts on the reconstruction of the Province. As regards political administration the provincial authorities are following the orders of the Central Government.

Relations with the Soviets are those of friendly intercourse of commerce and trade, based upon the policy of the Central Government. It is further asserted. — Central News Agency.

EMBARGO ON WAR MATERIALS

The committee will discuss the question of the boycott of Italian exports to-day.—Reuter.

TASK OUTLINED
Geneva: The task of the newly formed sub-committee for the compensations' questions was outlined by the chairman, the Spanish delegate, Senor Santos, at its first meeting yesterday.

The purpose of the compensation sub-committee is conformable with paragraph 3 of Article XVI, namely to reduce the losses and disadvantages arising out of the application of sanctions. All member-countries, however, are called on to make some sacrifice for their maintenance, declared the chairman, according to a report published by the League Secretariat.

Some of the delegates were of the opinion that the League Secretariat should be requested to prepare statistics of the trade of other countries with Italy, classified according to the kind of goods, which would show the importance of Italian trade in comparison with the entire foreign trade of the countries in question. It was decided that these figures should be prepared in readiness for the next session of the sub-committee, which takes place to-day.

"KEY" MATERIALS
Geneva: The prohibition of the export of "key materials" to Italy was discussed by the economic sub-committee during a three hours' session yesterday, at which Mr. Anthony Eden, the French delegate, M. Massigli, and the Rumanian Foreign Minister, M. Titulescu, were present. These measures were dealt with first in deference to French wishes, since originally it was intended to discuss the boycott of Italian exports simultaneously. This question will also be examined at to-day's sitting. Chief among the materials recommended for prohibition were nickel, chrome, zinc and wolfram. The eventual measures which should be taken to prevent the banned materials from being delivered by States which are not members of the League, was also discussed.—Trans-Ocean Service.

Friendly Relations To

STATE REORGANISATION

—CHINA MAIL—SPECIAL
Athens, To-day.

The Greek Premier, General Kondylis, stressed the importance of reciprocal economic interests between Greece and Germany, for which he professed a great admiration, in the course of an interview given to a representative of a German news agency yesterday.

It was his desire, added the Premier, to promote the imports of German industrial goods to Greece.

Turning to the new Government's foreign policy, General Kondylis emphasised his determination to maintain and further promote friendly relations with all neighbour States. These were assured in the case of Turkey and Rumania by the Balkan Union, and every effort would be made to arrive at an amicable settlement of the questions still at issue with Bulgaria and Albania.

ITALIAN RELATIONS

Greece also desired to continue friendly relations with Italy, to whom she is bound by many ties, and this attitude would not be altered by the fact that she would be obliged, as a League member, to participate in the sanctions.

The Government's immediate task lay in reorganising the state in a form fitted to present-day conditions, and taking measures for the maintenance of the conservative regime as well as in increasing armaments.

NOW ON SALE CHINA YEAR BOOK

1935 EDITION

The 25 Chapters of the 17th issue of the CHINA YEAR BOOK, edited by H. G. W. Woodhead, C.B.E., have as usual been revised or rewritten with the assistance of many experts, Chinese and foreign, and every effort has been made to bring information and statistics up to date.

The Chapter on the Kuomintang covers the political history of China in 1934. The Chapter on the Chinese Government contains the Text of the Provisional Constitution, the Organic Law, and the Draft of the Permanent Constitution.

The Chapter on International Issues gives the text of the Agreement and Exchange of Notes of the sale of the Chinese Eastern Railway, besides the latest documents relating to Sino-Japanese issues.

China's Communications — Railways, Roads, Post Office, Telegraphs, Wireless, Telephones, and Aviation—are very fully dealt with.

Father D'Elia, in the Chapter on Religions, contributes an interesting Chronological Review of Catholic Missions in China.

Mr. E. Kann is again responsible for the Chapter on Currency and Banking, and the Loan Tables.

A new feature is a Chapter on China's Modern Industries.

Price: $18 (Postage in China 30 cents extra).
